THE GEOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION OF NEW JERSEY RELEASE AND HOLD HARMLESS WAIVER

I, the undersigned, having been fully advised as to the nature and possible dangers of the conference and field trip, "New Jersey Coastal Plain Stratigraphy & Coastal Processes," on October 9 and 10, 2009, which is sponsored by THE GEOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION OF NEW JERSEY, do hereby assume any and all risks involved in connection with the trip, and do hereby save and hold harmless THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY; THE GEOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION OF NEW JERSEY, ITS OFFICERS, REPRESENTATIVES, AGENTS, OR MEMBERS; and the OWNERS of the properties and their AGENTS, from all claims, losses and damages (including attorney's fees and any costs involved because of said claim), on account of injury, death, property damage, inconvenience or loss of money due to delays that arise, by reason of my participation in the field trip. I understand that my use of alcohol or drugs would impair my judgment and coordination, and will hold the above stated organizations and individuals harmless from claims arising from the use of either. I understand that I am solely responsible for carrying my own life and health insurance. I grant THE GEOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION OF NEW JERSEY permission to use my image (photo) in their publications, web page, and other promotional materials.

The Inversand Pit is very muddy and wet, even on a dry day. Waterproof boots (e.g., duck boots) are recommended. Your clothing may also get muddy. Some kind of protective outer clothing and large plastic bags to put muddy items in may help. For digging tools, hand trowels or small garden spades are good; the standard issue Army entrenching tool is a shovel of choice in these coastal plain deposits. Small brushes, knives, dental tools, and a sieve may also be useful. For saving small and delicate specimens, bring all-purpose paleontological paper (a.k.a., toilet paper), small plastic vials (pill bottles or film canisters - remember those?), and plastic baggies. Also, there will be an additional required release form for the Inversand Pit that will be provided the day of the field trip.
